35th National Indian and Native American Employment Training

MEETING LOCATION AND ACCOMMODATIONS

Office of the Chairman

October 4, 2013

Dear Friends:

We are very happy to announce the 35th Native Indian and Native American Employment Training to be held April 6-10, 2014, hosted by Ramkota Hotel, Sioux Falls, South Dakota. The Training presents the opportunity to learn new ways to work as a unified workforce investment system in addressing our current and future struggles.

Providing the highest quality services to our community and successful appropriate training are my top priorities. As workforce investment professionals and members of the business community, you play a vital role in ensuring that our Native Indian and Native American workforce investment system is designed to respond to the issues influencing our community. By uniting all PL 102-477 and 166 workforce agencies throughout at the Nation, we have strengthened the evolving partnership and drive the system forward to meet the changing demands on the workforce system. I am proud of our progress in this area.

The National Training provides excellent speakers and workshops for your professional development. I encourage you to continue to learn and develop better abilities to meet the needs of all businesses, Native workers, and communities.

This year, the National Training will challenge you to view workforce and economic development from new perspectives. Community college, industry, government and community leaders and doers will share fresh ideas, out-of-the-box approaches, and unconventional solutions. We have scanned the horizon for engaging speakers and outstanding networking opportunities to help you leverage resources and build capacity. Grantees who attend this training will: become more of effective as a Workforce Investment employee, have better understanding of their responsibilities and duties, as well as what is effective and what is not.

I encourage all grantees to make their hotel reservations as soon as possible to avoid having to make alternative arrangements as well as take advantage of the early bird registration price as it will increase after December 31, 2013.

We know that you play a critical role in today's workforce. We also know that you continue to work hard to find innovative and effective ways to assist displaced workers. I congratulate you on your many successes that ensure our community continues to grow and prosper, and thank you for your dedication to helping our Native community.

Respectfully,

Chairman Darrell Waldron
Executive Director of Rhode Island Indian Council, Inc.
