The Office of Management and Budget approved the new Workforce Investment Act Standard Record Data (WIASRD) layout in May. This layout includes many new variables which require state collection, as well as new edit checks associated with each. This presentation will serve as a training tool for state workforce employees to better understand the new elements themselves, and the reasoning why these were included. A new layout for the WIASRD is not the only piece that will be new to states however; states will now also be required to submit their WIASRD file through the E-DRVS – a new online system where states can upload files directly to ETA. We will also touch on how states will utilize this system to submit all required materials.
